III. Terms of Use

- The entity contracting with the user depends on their location (e.g. eBay Inc., eBay (UK) Limited, etc.).
- Users agree to comply with all terms of this User Agreement when accessing or using eBay's Services.
- If a user resides in India and registers for eBay's Services, they further agree to the eBay.in User Agreement.

IV. Dispute Resolution

- The User Agreement contains provisions that govern how claims users and eBay have against each other are resolved (see "Disclaimer of Warranties; Limitation of Liability" and "Legal Disputes" provisions).
- Users who do not opt out of the Agreement to Arbitrate will be required to submit claims they have against eBay or related third parties to binding and final arbitration.

PROVISIONS).

- Users who do not opt out of the Agreement to Arbitrate will be required to submit claims they have against eBay or related third parties to binding and final arbitration.
- Key limitations of this agreement include:
 - Only pursuing claims on an individual basis, not as a plaintiff or class member in any class or representative action or proceeding.
 - Only seeking relief (including monetary, injunctive, and declaratory relief) on an individual basis.
 - Waiving the right to pursue disputes or claims and seek relief in a court of law and having a jury trial.

V. Other

- eBay may use artificial intelligence or AI-powered tools and products to provide and improve its Services, offer users a customized and personalized experience, provide enhanced customer service, and support fraud detection.
- Availability and accuracy of these tools are not guaranteed.
- eBay may help facilitate the resolution of disputes between buyers and sellers through various programs.

Note: The summary focuses on the main points and key insights from the PDF text, omitting some details to make it concise and easy to read.

Q: Give me a high-level summary of this document.

This document appears to outline an agreement between eBay and NAM (a dispute resolution service) regarding the handling of arbitration demands filed against eBay. The agreement states that if 25 or more similar demands are filed within a 90-day period, NAM will group them into batches of up to 100 demands each, appoint one arbitrator per batch, and resolve each batch on a consolidated basis with shared fees, calendar, and hearing location (if applicable).

Answer:

According to the provided text, according to the User Agreement:

- If you sell an item on an eBay site different from your registration or listing site, you are subject to the User Agreement and applicable policies, including buyer protection programs, of that other eBay site with respect to that particular sale.
- eBay uses automated tools to translate content, including member-to-member communications, into local languages where such translation solutions are available. The accuracy and availability of any translation are not guaranteed.
- One way eBay makes listings available to international buyers is through the eBay International Shipping Program (EIS), which enables buyers to obtain parcel processing and international shipping.
